

Mongolian optical cable wholesale manufacturers

AI Overview

Key manufacturers and suppliers of optical cables in Mongolia include Moncable, Gemnet, and NEW OPTIC LLC, with international suppliers like YOFC also serving the market.

Local Manufacturers and Providers

Moncable: A Mongolian company specializing in fiber optic cables for telecommunications, data centers, and LAN networks. They provide installation services following Mongolian standards such as MNS 5207:2023 and MNS 6597:2016, offering underground, aerial, and micro-trenching installation options.

Gemnet LLC: Established in 2008, Gemnet operates Mongolia's primary national information communication network. They own and manage a 1,199 km terrestrial fiber optic network along the railway, providing high-capacity DWDM and SDH systems that meet international standards.

NEW OPTIC LLC: Focused on expanding high-speed internet and data transmission infrastructure in remote regions of Mongolia, NEW OPTIC offers flexible pricing and project-based solutions for fiber optic network deployment.

International Manufacturers

YOFC (Yangtze Optical Fibre and Cable Joint Stock Limited Company): A global leader in optical fiber and cable manufacturing, YOFC produces advanced fiber technologies, including hollow-core fibers and preform manufacturing. While based internationally, YOFC products are often supplied to Mongolian projects through distributors or partnerships.

Wholesale and Import Options

Mongolian standard optical cables are also available through wholesale and import channels, connecting buyers with verified suppliers for bulk purchases. These companies collectively cover both domestic production and international supply, providing a range of optical cable types suitable for telecommunications, internet infrastructure, and specialized applications in Mongolia.
