

Price of cable tray buffer device

AI Overview

The Tripp Lite Arc Buffer Link Span Kit, a common cable tray buffer device, is priced around $49.99 on Amazon. Cable tray buffer devices, such as the Tripp Lite SRWBARCBFFL Arc Buffer Bracket, are designed to create secure connections between intersecting wire mesh cable trays, allowing for smooth 90-degree turns and supporting bundled cables. This particular kit includes four couplers and is compatible with 2-inch high wire mesh trays like Tripp Lite's SRWB6210STR and SRWB12210STR. Pricing Overview: Retail Price: Approximately $49.99 per kit on Amazon. Factors Affecting Cost: Material (steel, aluminum, or galvanized), size, brand, and quantity purchased. Bulk orders or industrial suppliers may offer discounts. Other Suppliers: McMaster-Carr and Alibaba list various cable tray accessories, including buffer brackets, with prices varying based on specifications and material. Installation and Use: These devices are typically easy to install, using included couplers to join tray sections. They help prevent cable sagging, maintain proper bend radius, and improve overall cable management in data centers or industrial settings. For larger projects, it is recommended to compare prices across suppliers like Amazon, McMaster-Carr, and Alibaba to find the best combination of cost, material, and compatibility with your existing cable tray system.
