

Price per kg for cable tray supports

AI Overview

The price of cable tray support is approximately ₹120 per kilogram in India, though it may vary by supplier, material, and location. Current Market Pricing IndiaMart Listing: Cable tray support channels are available at ₹120 per kg from Sri Sai Murugan Industries in Chennai, India . Supplier Variations: Prices can differ depending on the type of support, height, and included hardware. For example, coupler plates for 25/50 mm height cable trays are priced at ₹16 per piece, while 75/100 mm trays are ₹30 per piece, indicating that material and size affect overall cost . International Options: Suppliers like McMaster-Carr offer cable tray supports with zinc plating for corrosion resistance, supporting up to 280 lbs per foot. Pricing is typically based on the type of support (hanging clamps, bars, or clips) rather than strictly per kilogram . Factors Affecting Price Material Type: Steel, galvanized steel, or aluminum supports have different costs. Zinc-plated or corrosion-resistant options are generally more expensive. Supplier and Location: Prices vary by region and supplier, with bulk orders often receiving discounts. Hardware Inclusion: Some prices include couplers, clamps, or bolts, while others are for the raw support channel only. Quantity: Minimum order quantities may apply, affecting the effective per kg price. Practical Considerations When budgeting for cable tray supports, consider shipping, GST, and installation hardware costs in addition to the base price per kg. For large projects, contacting multiple suppliers for quotes can help secure the best price and ensure timely delivery .
